

Eto'o Tsana

"Artist, singer, dancer and choreographer, Eto'o Tsana is a woman whose vocal power is tinged with a mixture of charm and sensuality."—Voila Night

Puerto Rican-Congolese triple threat recording artist, dancer and choreographer Eto'o Tsana has managed to win audiences both nationally and internationally, thanks to the particularity of her music style born from a mix between African and Caribbean Latino rhythms. Her sound which she calls "Kongobeats" comes from central Africa, the Congo; has gained the interests of listeners worldwide. Born to Puerto Rican and African American parents "Eto'o Tsana" earned her name in the African dance scene as one of the best dancers in the Congolese field; being compared to the Great dancer Moseka from the Democratic Republic of the Congo who was a member of the 1980's Empire Bakuba of Pepe Kalle.

After years of establishing a dance career, in 2017, Eto'o Tsana debuted her first single "Tobina" which translates in English to "Let's Dance". Since then she has released other titles "Desir D'Amour", "Boye", "My ChoCot", "LI5T3N II M3", "Pepea", Jishaue, Tik Tok feat Bill Nass, and was featured on Kebby Boy's "My DODO."

In 2020, Eto'o Tsana received the award for Best Up and Coming female artist, as well as the 2019 "Best Independent Female Artist" from the HAPAWARDS. In 2018, Eto'o Tsana received an award from the Uollywood Entertainment Awards in "Arts and Culture" for her contribution to Music and Dance. She is also the recipient of the African Entertainment Awards 2018 "Best Upcoming Artist" acknowledgement given to promising new talent.
